

Gabrielle Bercy-Roberson, MD

- My name is Dr Gabriel Bercy-Roberson. I am a obstetrician and gynecologist practicing at Carney Hospital. I graduated from University of Rochester School of Medicine where I completed my internship and residency. I also hold a Masters Degree in Public Health that I received from Harvard School of Public Health. My first position following my training was at Dimock Community Health Center.
- I have been an active participant in community based medicine. I am a Board Member of the Carney Independent Physician Association.
- With the addition of the Center for Women's Health at Carney Hospital, our female patients now have a comprehensive scope of services that address their physical, emotional and educational needs.
- Our goal at the Center is to provide comprehensive care for patients in one place, to make it as comfortable and convenient as possible for our patients.
- Having access to excellent care at Carney is reassuring for the community and reduces the stress for people trying to coordinate the medical care they need.
- At Carney, we treat a diverse population, and the care we provide is culturally sensitive. The affiliation with Cerberus will provide continuing cultural competency and high quality care to the women in the community.
- Our plan is to provide further coordination with the Adult and Adolescent practitioners to provide education and resources for management of common GYN complaints

Thank you for your support of Carney Hospital.